

How much does it cost to install network cable trays

Overview

Per-drop costs range from $100 to $250, including labor costs, materials, wall plates, and termination for each network connection point. Costs vary based on tray material (steel, aluminum, or fiberglass), size, design (ladder or solid bottom), and installation complexity. Additional elements like supports, connectors, and brackets. The majority of individuals will consider the cost of the components. But the actual price is the cash outlay to the workers to assemble the parts. That number matters, but it's rarely the one that decides whether a project stays within budget. The real cost shows up later, during installation, during upgrades, and during the first few years of operation. Total project costs vary by size: Small offices (5-15 drops) typically cost $2,500-$7,500, while medium businesses (15-50 drops) range from $7,500-$25,000. The trays are bendable and expandable to almost any requirement.
